COMMUNITY CALENDAR 2023

FOR YOUR INFORMATION

All of the companies operating on the major industrial sites on Teesside take safety and emergency response very seriously, with companies working very closely together. Everyone is firmly committed to a policy which ensures the safety and health of employees, neighbours and customers as well as everyone associated with our operations.

There are well established and regularly reviewed emergency plans which have been developed jointly with all the emergency services and these are exercised frequently to ensure that risks are kept to an absolute minimum in the unlikely event of a major incident.

In accordance with these policies, our safety alarms are tested on a regular and routine basis. At Wilton and Billingham these tests take place every Tuesday morning between 9am and 10am. The North Tees alarm is sounded each Wednesday at 10am.

Throughout this calendar we have highlighted the dates and times of these tests during 2023. Should you hear an on-site alarm at any other time, be informed of an incident or simply suspect that one might have occurred, please follow the safety advice below as a precautionary measure until you receive further information.

SAFETY ADVICE

- Go immediately into a house or building.
- Close all windows and doors.
- Switch off ventilation and air conditioning systems.
- Stay indoors and listen to BBC Tees (95FM) and Zetland FM (105FM) for further information. Monitor official social media accounts, particularly on Zetland FM. BBC TV and ITV may also provide up to date information.
- Please stay calm and co-operate fully with any instructions given by the emergency services.
- Remain indoors until the incident is over.

Robert Peasgood
Managing Director
Falck Fire
Services UK

Be assured that the professional expertise of all the emergency services is always available, with the back-up support of the local authorities.

YOUR SAFETY IS OUR PARAMOUNT CONCERN

Anyone who just a few years ago failed to understand the importance of the process industries in our lives must surely have a better appreciation now.

Whether it has been in creating the vital ingredients in the vaccines that have saved millions of lives around the world or in finding new, more sustainable ways to feed and power our societies in response to climate change, many of the companies here on Teesside are playing key roles.

Chemicals has long been a mainstay of this area, but the process industries today are a much broader 'church' embracing a raft of firms involved in the pharmaceuticals industry, renewable energy, plastics recycling and minerals processing to name just a few.

That's why we should celebrate the fantastic international companies with a presence here on Teesside. Along with the myriad of supply chain firms that support them, they are absolutely essential to our future. Nor should we forget the exciting and varied career opportunities they offer our young people. Not just budding scientists and engineers, but people with a vast range of other skills and talents too.

Another mainstay over more than three decades has been the Community Calendar, which is sent each year to around 20,000 households closest to Teesside's main industrial sites at Wilton International, Billingham and North Tees.

For the 2023 calendar we again set our young people a challenge - to tell us the range of things for which they are thankful. As their fantastic pictures and explanations show, it amounts to a lot!

All those children whose work is displayed here have now received tokens to spend at a local toy store and the participating schools have also been given a donation as thanks for their involvement.

The sponsoring companies showing true community spirit and commitment this year are:

Alpek Polyester UK • Anglo American • CF Fertilisers • Ensus UK • Exolum • Falck Fire Services UK • Huntsman Polyurethanes UK • IFF Ingredients - Flavor and Speciality • Mitsubishi Chemical UK • RWE/Sofia Offshore Wind Farm • SABIC UK Petrochemicals • Sembcorp Energy UK • SNF Oil and Gas • Suez Recycling and Recovery UK.

Please keep the calendar on display in your home. It includes lots of useful information and details of the practical actions that would need to be taken in the unlikely event of a major emergency at any of the sites that would require a response by people in the neighbouring communities.

Each calendar month also displays the weekly and quarterly alarm test times which we recognise are often audible to people living nearby.

On behalf of all the employees and contractors working across the sites, we send our best wishes for a Merry Christmas and we hope you have a Happy New Year.
